Educación para Ella

About the Project

Educación para Ella (“Education for Her”) is a volunteer-led online education and well-being initiative created to support Afghan girls and women who have been deprived of access to education and other opportunities.

The project was started in September 2025 in response to the severe restrictions on education and opportunities for Afghan girls. In Afghanistan, girls are increasingly prevented from attending school beyond certain ages, with access to education and many other activities restricted or denied. Educación para Ella was created to provide Afghan girls with a safe and accessible way to continue learning, develop new skills, and stay connected to an educational community, regardless of where they are living.

The project brings together volunteer teachers and supporters from around the world. Today, more than 25 volunteers contribute their time, knowledge, and skills to help make education accessible to Afghan girls and women.

Our work combines language education, digital and creative skills, programming, and psychological well-being, creating a supportive learning community rather than simply offering individual classes.

Our Mission

The mission of Educación para Ella is to help Afghan girls and women continue learning, developing their skills, and building hope for their futures despite the barriers they face.

We believe that education is a right, not a privilege. When formal educational opportunities are restricted, access to learning should not disappear.

Through online classes, volunteer teachers, and a supportive community, we aim to:

- Provide accessible and safe educational opportunities for Afghan girls and women.
- Help students develop language, digital, creative, and professional skills.
- Create opportunities for continued learning despite restrictions on girls' education.
- Support students' confidence, independence, and personal development.
- Provide spaces for mindfulness and psychological well-being.
- Connect Afghan students with a global community of volunteers and educators.
- Encourage hope, resilience, and the belief that learning and personal growth can continue even in difficult circumstances.

What We Offer

English Language Classes

Our English program offers classes across different levels of the CEFR (Common European Framework of Reference for Languages).

Current and planned levels include:

- A0
- A1
- A2
- B1
- B2
- C1

The English program allows students to progress from beginner level toward advanced English and develop the language skills they need for education, work, communication, and future opportunities.

Spanish Language Classes

We also offer Spanish language education for beginner-level students:

- A0
- A1
- A2

The Spanish program gives students the opportunity to learn a new language and connect with people and cultures beyond their immediate environment.

German Language Classes

Our German program currently includes:

- A1
- A2

The program provides students with foundational German language skills and the opportunity to continue progressing toward higher levels.

Photography

Education is not only about academic subjects. We also offer photography classes, giving students the opportunity to develop creative skills, explore visual storytelling, and express themselves through photography.

Programming and Web Development

We are expanding our digital education program with programming and web development classes.

Our upcoming and current areas of study include:

- JavaScript
- Web development
- Programming fundamentals
- Practical digital skills

These classes are designed to give students useful skills that can support future education, employment, freelancing, and participation in the digital world.

Mindfulness and Well-being

Education also requires emotional and mental space for learning.

We provide mindfulness sessions for Afghan girls and women, including participants living in Afghanistan, Iran, Pakistan, and Iraq.

These sessions create a supportive space where participants can pause, connect with themselves, manage stress, and develop mindfulness practices.

A Global Volunteer Community

Educación para Ella is powered by a growing community of volunteers from different parts of the world.

More than 25 volunteers currently contribute to the project, sharing their knowledge, time, experience, and skills with students.

Our volunteers include teachers, educators, professionals, and people who simply believe strongly in the right to education.

The project demonstrates what can happen when people from different countries come together around one shared belief:

Every girl deserves the opportunity to learn.

Why Educación para Ella Exists

Since the Taliban's return to power in Afghanistan, girls and women have faced severe restrictions on education and participation in public life. For many Afghan girls, continuing their education through traditional institutions is no longer possible.

Educación para Ella was created as a response to this situation.

We cannot remove every barrier that Afghan girls face, but we can help ensure that their desire to learn does not disappear.

An online classroom can become more than a place for lessons. It can become a connection to the outside world, a community, a source of confidence, and a reminder that students' ambitions and abilities still matter.

Our Vision

We envision a future where every Afghan girl and woman can access education freely and safely, choose what she wants to learn, develop her talents, and build the future she wants.

Until that becomes possible, Educación para Ella seeks to keep doors to learning open.

We believe that education creates possibilities.

We believe that skills create independence.

We believe that community creates strength.

And we believe that no restriction should be allowed to erase a girl's right to dream, learn, and build her future.

Founding and Collaboration

Educación para Ella was initiated by Najiah Mohammadi, with the support and collaboration of:

- Chloe, a colleague from Open Cultural Center
- Carol from Afghan Women on the Run

The project has grown through collaboration, volunteerism, and the shared commitment of people who want to support Afghan girls and women through education.

Our Values

Education as a Right

We believe every girl and woman deserves access to education regardless of where she lives or the circumstances she faces.

Accessibility

We use online education to reach students who may not have access to traditional educational institutions.

Empowerment

We aim to give students knowledge and practical skills that can increase their confidence, independence, and future opportunities.

Community

We connect students with teachers and volunteers from around the world, creating a community based on learning and mutual support.

Dignity and Safety

We seek to provide a respectful, supportive, and safe learning environment for our students.

Hope

We believe that continuing to learn is an act of hope and resilience.

A Message From Educación para Ella

Education for her means opportunity for her.

When a classroom door is closed, we believe another door can be opened.

When access to education is restricted, we believe learning can continue.

And when someone is told that she cannot study, we want her to know that there are people around the world who believe in her right to learn.

Educación para Ella exists to keep that possibility alive.
